Anne K. Crothers, M. Ed. is an expert in trauma and abuse. In addition to interventions, she is a therapist with children, teens and families. She uses expressive therapies with a spiritual focus. She practices here at Healing Works.

Their approach is family-based, believing that the disease of addiction affects the whole family and that the whole family needs support and treatment to address the crisis.

They have adapted their intervention model from the work of Bill Maher, Ed Storti and others. They work with many amazing treatment facilities including The Caron Foundation in Wernersville, PA.

INTERVENTIONS FOR FAMILIES & FRIENDS

Feeling helpless?

Not sure how to help a loved one who is unable to manage their alcohol or drug use, gambling, eating disorder, sexual conduct, or cutting?

Are you feeling exhausted, worn out, worried sick?

We can help!

A professional intervention is a scheduled meeting including family, friends, and others who care about the addicted person. The goal of the intervention is to help this person and their family break the cycle of addiction. Intervention is an act of love and is their best chance.

We believe addiction is a family disease, and that the family as a whole is suffering. We assess the situation, create a personalized intervention, and plan effective treatment to help everyone find recovery.

ARE INTERVENTIONS EFFECTIVE?

Interventions are always successful. A positive shift takes place within the family. Denial is broken and healing begins. Your fee is a lifetime investment, a one-time cost.

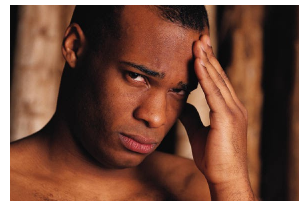

HOW DOES IT WORK?

There are several types of interventions. We offer the Family Transformational Model, a respectful, invitational intervention that allows the family the chance to participate with the addict in the miracle of recovery. We work with the family for two days, educating, supporting and uncovering the shame. We give information about the disease of addiction, codependency, and effective treatment. The disease of addiction truly affects everyone in the family and everyone needs help to BEGIN recovery

We do not ambush, shame or single anyone out. Recognizing the shame of addiction, we maintain the integrity and dignity of each and every family member.

We provide hope. We offer choices. Life is the choice you are offered in this moment.

The place is here.
The time is now.
The person is you.
The choice is yours.

CAN I DO IT MYSELF?

Sometimes, families hold their own intervention without a professional and are successful in getting someone into treatment. That's not our goal. We want to move the whole family into recovery.

We have worked with many people who were reluctant to seek treatment and have helped them change their mind. We know what to expect, and how to handle their questions and fears.

You don't have the time to wait. We know how bad things are. If you want help, we are here for you.

Call now to begin the journey!
